

Oklahoma's Outstanding Attraction!

It's the most coveted title for attractions in Oklahoma's tourism world and at the Oklahoma Travel Industry Association's annual Redbud Awards, May 16, in Oklahoma City, the Chisholm Trail Heritage Center was announced as the winner.

Our guests are unique and world travelers. It doesn't matter if you are a cowboy, soldier or athlete, we have a reputation for having great guests ... and we wouldn't have it any other way. You are the reason we are outstanding!

Each year, we serve as host to thousands of guests (about 25,000)- from Oklahoma, across the United States and from abroad - China, South Africa, Germany, and many more. In all, in 2016, we had guests from 48 states and 26 countries. We also had about 7,500 students visit for field trips, programs and tours.

Partnerships with AdventureRoad, Chickasaw Nation, Smithsonian Magazine, Duncan Public Library, Chisholm Trail Arts Council, Duncan Art Guild, Rotary International and Duncan Rotary, Oklahomans for the Arts, ExhibitsUSA/Mid-America Arts Alliance, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Leadership Duncan, are just some of the reasons why OTIA judged us as a top attraction. Additionally, they considered our contributions to the overall tourism industry, education, arts and making major facility improvements, all in 2016.

"Love all the partnerships"

In 2016, we added seven awards, with two of those OTIA Redbud Merits for Outstanding Attraction and Outstanding New Event.

Earning the "Outstanding Attraction" title again keeps the Chisholm Trail Heritage Center in the top of Oklahoma's tourist destinations! Our members make this success possible.

CELEBRATING 150 YEARS OF THE CHISHOLM TRAIL

Garis Gallery/Artist Spotlight: Pat Holloway Dixon

"I love to teach."

Our featured artist for May and June 2017, is Pat Holloway Dixon, who moved to Duncan, OK, in 1992.

Originally from Tulsa, Pat also lived in Houston, before moving back to Oklahoma. She has been creating and teaching art for more than 40 years.

Her work includes landscapes, skyscapes, animals, still life and most recently, some vibrant modern abstracts.

We selected three paintings from her great collection, to feature in the Garis Gallery of the American West.

These paintings are available to purchase. Please inquire at the gift shop counter. Regular admission; CTHC members are always free.

Pat Holloway Dixon, 85, continues to paint from her home studio in Duncan, and still loves to teach.

Beautification Projects

Volunteers from the United Way of Stephens County agency were here for Day of Caring. They tackled the trail and did some pruning and mowing for those who enjoy walking the nature preserve area.

We also had workers from The Crucible Foundry in Norman here to give a good cleaning and waxing of the On the Chisholm Trail Monument. It looks great!
