

CTHC hosts young writer support event

A public reception for Saddle Up & Write, the Chisholm Trail Heritage Center's award winning creative writing program for area sixth-grade students from Duncan, Empire and Marlow schools will be held Sunday.

The program starts at 1:30 p.m., with introduction by Executive Director Stacy Cramer Moore, of instructor Dr. Nathan Brown.

Dr. Brown, former Oklahoma Poet Laureate, will talk about the program and read one or two of his selections. Students are also given the opportunity to read their favorite selections from the published mini-magazine featuring their work.

Each student in the program receives a copy of the book and additional copies are available in the gift shop to purchase. We still have a few copies from previous years in the gift shop.
